

ITALY JAILS 20 IN A PLOT ON MUSSOLINI

Rome, Nov. 7 (AP)—The St. Paul News Agency today announced that about 20 persons, accused of plotting against the Fascist regime, had been arrested during the past two weeks and that further investigations were being made.

A communique issued by the News Agency said:

"In the days preceding the anniversary of the march on Rome (October 28) there were arrested in various localities of upper Italy some 20 persons who had prepared in concert with anti-Fascist elements in Paris, a series of criminal actions against the regime. They have been held before the special tribunal. Other investigations are under way."

Professor Ernesto Rossi, 36, director of political economy at the University of Bergamo, today escaped from a train in which he was being brought to Rome by four detectives, reportedly to answer charges of anti-Fascism before the special tribunal. He was found at Viareggio after a search of nine hours and continued his journey.

The foreign office denied stories emanating from Geneva and published in Vienna and London that Dino Grandi, foreign minister, had resigned.

The foreign office at the same time denied reports published in the United States that scores of persons had been jailed for complicity in an anti-Mussolini plot.

POPE'S U. S. AID TO BE CARDINAL

Vatican City, Nov. 7 (AP)—Mgr. Piusaschi Biondi, apostolic delegate to the Holy See in the United States, very likely may be created cardinal in a consistory which Pope Pius is understood to be contemplating for December.

Mr. Piusaschi Biondi, it was pointed out, has been in his present important post since 1922 and the time may well be considered ripe to recall him for an important post in the Curia. This is a customary proceeding with Papal diplomats who have distinguished themselves in long service abroad.

Other Italian prelates mentioned as likely to be elevated are Mgr. Torin, secretary of the congregation of Sacraments, and Mgr. Mussini, dean of the Tribunal of the Holy Roman.

A report that two non-Italians are being considered for elevation was doubted in Vatican circles.

Dr. Hibben Asked to Resign Post

Riverport, N. J., Nov. 7 (Rev. J. P. Dunlop, Presbyterian minister, made public here a letter he had sent to Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University, calling upon Dr. Hibben to resign. He declared the university executive "responsible for the rioting of the students of Princeton University and their bloodshed." It said the responsibility was due to Dr. Hibben's "bad example in standing for liquor and speaking against prohibition." Dunlop pointed out further that W. W. Roper, Princeton football coach, is "an avowed advocate of liquor."

Felix Isman Tries Marriage Again

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Felix Isman, wealthy real estate operator, former theatrical and business manager, twice divorced, has entered his third matrimonial venture.

In the City Chapel he married Miss Helen Gaudin of Westfield, N. J. He gave his age as 37, while the bride is 26.

Johnson Resigns as Shoe Company Head

Birmingham, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—George F. Johnson, president of the Endicott-Johnson Corporation, shoe manufacturers, has resigned and has been elected chairman of the board. Johnson, who was the former first vice-president, has been elected president.

'Yellow Dog' Killed as He Balks Holdup of Benefactor

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—The famous yellow dog that used to beg his living at the drug store of Donald Russell, paid his debt last night.

Russell was held up by three young men who took $53. Two got away in a car, but the third hit on foot with the dog after him. A policeman tried to follow and lost his way in a dark alley, but the dog caught the robbers as he tried to climb a fence. Police found the man beating the dog. Then there was a shot.

Peter Kozik was captured and the loot was recovered, but when the dog was found there was a bullet hole in its head.

Chains of lantern lights and lighted fireworks now guide pilots on their swift, cross-country flights through the darkness and help to eliminate many of the hazards of night flying. The dangers that face air mail pilots is told in Captain Eaker's article in the March of Events section of the next Boston Sunday Advertiser.

$5000 Reward

The Boston Evening American will pay a reward of $5000 for information leading to the capture of Oliver R. Garrett.

Oliver R. Garrett, age 38, helped to kill the late Senator Christopher S. O'Sullivan in a shooting at the Hotel Hamilton, New York, on May 1, 1928. He was arrested in New York on May 2, 1928, and held in the city jail. He was later released on $5000 bail. He is now at large.

Missing 138 Days

FRENCH HEAR ARMS PLEA

Paris, Nov. 7 (AP)—Georges Scapini, war-blinded deputy, was the first speaker to accept the armistice today in assumption of debate on the government's foreign policy.

With trembling fingers consulting notes in Braille characters, the veteran, who visited the United States last year, made a plea for security, disarmament and arbitration.

His address was not considered an attack on the Tardieu government, but an exhortation to Foreign Minister Briand to adopt a firmer attitude toward Germany, warning against premature evacuation of the Saar Valley, for which, he said, Germany already was apatating.

Davis to Hold Job Until December

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—James J. Davis, senator-elect from Pennsylvania, will remain in his post as Secretary of Labor until Congress convenes on December 1, he revealed upon his return to Washington today.

Many Activities on Club Institute Program

By NANCY BREWSTER

Club up campaigns, child welfare work, hospital work, playgrounds, public health campaigns, scholarship funds, charitable pursuits—these are but a few of the activities which engage club attention and but few of the activities listed at the Club Institute by club presidents as the contribution of clubwomen to the community.

Bay club executives reciting the great deeds of their respective groups, told of the indispensable service of clubwomen to the community, without which many communal projects would never be realized.

The influence of the Onset Women's Club was established as permanent. Mrs. Carl L. Hill, Jr., president of the South Shore group, and state chairman of the department of public health, told the members of Club Institute, when the clubwomen, from sunrise to sunset, served hot foods to the searching party in a recent drought. It was the clubwomen who were ready to serve community.

"It should be the townfolk that the Onset Women's Club stood ready to serve everybody in the town and not alone itself," she explained.

After club takes full charge of the Memorial Day observance, she continued, and assists in the celebration of other holidays. Mrs. Hill told of an outdoor swimming project which her club was instrumental in bringing to life.

Mrs. Frederic J. Boule, reporting for the De Normandie Woman's Club of Boston as its president, told of its Christmas cheer giving, its contributions to the Children's Hospital and scholarship funds; its interest in civic undertakings and its work with the disabled soldiers.

MOTHERCRAFT COURSE

At Woburn's club was responsible for the placing of Mothercraft is the regular course of study for junior high school girls. Mrs. C. Alden Cummings, president of the group, in Woburn, she explained, inter-racial work is an important and functions regularly because of the large foreign population in the town. Local charities receive much help from this club, too.

The World Woman's Club contributed $300 to the new Winthrop Community Hospital new under construction and plans to make another contribution to its president, Mrs. Walter D. Remay, explained.

CLUB CLEARING HOUSE

And in the recital of club achievements and club good causes conducted under the supervision of the chairman of Club Institute, Mrs. Frank E. Bennett, Jr.

As the clearing house of club activities, Club Institute is an indispensable part of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. As this branch of the "clearing house" functioned, Mrs. Carl L. Hill, state president, held executive session with the members of her board.

Dramatic Black and White Gowns

By ANN ARDEN

THE WHITE bunny wrap is the most popular evening fashion of the younger set. Next to ermine, there's nothing so really formal and "swanky" looking as a coat of fine, silky rabbit, as soft and white as a down powder puff.

ITS GENERAL usefulness is unquestioned, as it "goes" with any dress—any color you may want to wear for evening—lovely with white, charming with the soft pastels, swanky, and rather more sophisticated over black. The black gown accessorized with rhinestones or crystal jewelry, white gloves, perhaps a white flower, and a snowy white wrap should achieve a perfect evening.

THE COSTUME pictured might be called "Cinderella's Dream Come True"—a black satin dress, on Victorian lines, with low placed fullness on the skirt, a graceful pleated, jeweled shoulder strap and belt buckle; necklaces and earrings, black satin slippers, and white kid gloves. In the approval above-the-elbow length. The white wrap is of a silky fur, in three-quarters length, with long shawl collar and capable of adjustment to suit the wearer.

INCIDENTALLY, if you have prudently started your Christmas list, a white bunny wrap might very well be given a place. It's the smartest and most delightful Christmas gift the mode has evolved in years. Not too expensive—you won't feel extravagant if you give it to a young daughter—and splendid enough to satisfy the Santa Claus urge in even the most doting parent.

BLACK SATIN is decidedly on the up and up for evening, if we may be so slangy! Smart models that have appeared are made on simple lines with full circular skirts and contrasting bow or sash marking the high waistline. A well-known actress wore a victorian frock with apron tunic in front and skirt fullness concentrated at the back. A bow of the satin was poised high, just below the back décolletage.

ANN ARDEN will answer questions concerning clothes, social customs or fashions generally. Address your questions to the Boston Evening American or the Boston Sunday Advertiser or to Station WLEX.

Billows of creamy suds—all in an instant!
with Chipso Granules—

Women exclaim delightedly over the convenience, the time-saving of Chippo Granules. "It's wonderful not to have to wait for hot water," they tell us. "We get a tubful of suds instantly—a dishpan piled high with lacy foam. With every bit of soap dissolved, the water feels like velvet. And those Chippo suds last through two or three washer-loads of clothes—through pile after pile of dishes and greasy pans. They melt dirt like magic." They're magically gentle, too.

Mrs. M. W. S.—
"Wonderful how quickly
Chipso Granules dissolve!"

And how easy they make dishwashing . . . my hands—well, they're starting to look like my hands and not like a scrubwoman's! Mrs. Sender says she likes to soak the worst of the cooking utensils in Chipso suds for a few minutes. Then—even burned-on ones are shining in a jiffy!

Mrs. K. H.--
"My husband works on the railroad"

"--and his clothes get pretty dirty with Clorox Granules and my electric. I have nothing to worry about. The men are always asking how he overcomes it!" Clorox cleans the night-woven fabrics; yet a safe and gentle thing to use. That's why it is world as a washing machine soap.

FLOUR

Creamy White...In Its Own Right

NOT ALL flours come by their color honestly. Some are made from inferior wheat and must be bleached by artificial means to obtain a presentable color. The creamy whiteness of Ceresota Flour comes from a natural milling of the best Northern wheat, and its flavor is Mother Nature's own. The word "Unbleached" on a sack of Ceresota is your assurance that you are getting flour that is absolutely pure and wholesome.

Surprise Their Friends

REV. ALEXANDER J. CHANDLER, 23, and his bride, former Nina Barton Strout of Atlantic, whose wedding on September 14 was announced to friends who gathered to give them a "prenuptial" shower.

Marriage of Pastor Revealed at Party

The wedding of the Rev. Alexander J. Chandler, 23, recently appointed pastor of the Warner, N. H., Congregational Church and a 20-year-old Boston girl, was revealed to their friends last night when they gathered at the home of the bride's aunt in Quincy to tender the couple a "prenuptial" shower.

The wedding followed a romance which began when they met while rehearsing for a play, last March. The bride is the former Miss Nina Barton Strout, 20, of 118 West Atlantic.

The couple were married in Moretown, Vt., on Sept. 14 by the bridegroom's father, Rev. Henry J. Chandler, pastor of the Moretown Methodist Church. It was revealed.

The couple met last March at the Boston Y. W. C. A. while rehearsing for a dramatic production. At that time the Rev. Mr. Chandler was a senior student at the Boston University School of Theology.

He holds the position of pastor of Warner Street of Brookline, N. Y. came from New York. Two years ago and since that time has been working as a stenographer in a Boston firm. She has been living with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Strout at 135 Hollis ave., Atlantic.

The Rev. Mr. Chandler, a former resident of Johns and was graduated from the Lynn Classical High school and the Boston University School of Theology last June.

The couple plan to live in Warner, N. H., where the bridegroom will assume his duties as pastor of the Congregational Church.

In two ratings requested by the Public Utilities department, Attorney Warner today partially cleared the way for construction of the new tunnel station at Cambridge and the station.

He said that the State may finally meet the cost of construction of the power from a cable under the station to the nearby site of Cambridge, and a connecting cable connecting the power to the station.

The second ruling was that cost of building the approaches to the Cambridge bridge had to be met by the city and cannot be met by the state. The utility department is going ahead with plans for construction of the station.

"Old 33" Has Won Many Games for Michigan
Harvard has reason to fear the "old 33" which has won many games for Michigan. Only the most experienced ends can hope to cope with the trick play. Few plays have ever carried more deception than "old 33," which is a sweep followed by a drop of the ball carrier.

Another play which the Wolverines hope to get away with at least once, is the run from a false start. With a man back in kick formation, it is only natural for the rush to come in fast and straight.

Back in 1925, Dartmouth had a record passing game. The Michigan State game, or in other words, since Harry Newman was discovered. They have pointed for Harvard.

Salem-Lynn English in School Feature Tomorrow

A confident Salem high eleven marches into the Lynn English field tomorrow afternoon for one of the most important schoolboy grid games of the year.

Lynn English, undefeated and unscathed, is favored to defeat Salem. But Bill Broderick's team has worked all season with the idea of winning over Lynn English and the latter must be in top form to conquer the Islesmen.

The game will bring into action two of the best school boys of recent years. Norman Rand of Lynn English, stand is a wonderful shift back, while Genetakis combines great power with unerring passing ability.

Askelof, Heffernan and Cullen are other good Salem backs. Jansell and Moriarty in the Lynn English backfield are boys of unusual ability. This game will be watched by 1000 people. Games will be held in the broad stadium from Station WIDIT, with Fred Story describing the game from the field.

Pittsburg, unbeaten this fall, is in for a tough fight with Brockton. Brockton has a brilliant team. Walcott goes to Medford with great hopes of defeating the Modford force, which has developed fast and now presents one of the strongest lineups of the year.

Medford-Malden Receipts to Go Into Athletic Fund

Fifty-five directors of all three Fred J. Nash of Malden high school said that the annual Malden-Medford football game on Thanksgiving would not be played for any welfare fund, as suggested in a resolution approved by both branches of the Malden City Council.

"Much as we would like to help out in the welfare work," said Mr. Nash, "the proceeds from the game must go into our athletic fund, which supports our sports program and pays for necessary improvements in equipment and the Fratt stadium."

"The City Council has no authority in matters to do with school athletics. I am responsible for the directing of the finances of athletics in the high school and I know that it would not be possible to contribute all or part of the Thanksgiving game proceeds and properly carry on our plans for improvement of athletic facilities for the high school children."

Price Advance May Come Soon in Commodities

Something Sure to Happen to Change Present Gloomy Views

By B. C. FORBES

New York, Nov. 7.—Wholesale prices are now about 15 per cent below the high level of last year. It would be rash, therefore, to conclude that the cost of living has been reduced as much as it appears to be.

But the fact that prices have been lowered more than 10 per cent is a fact that should not be overlooked.

Lately, there has been a fresh wave of weakness in the market, and a period of mild upward movement has been followed by a sharp decline.

It is not, however, a sign of a general decline in prices, but rather a sign of a temporary setback.

The writer cannot believe that the decline in basic commodities is a sign of a general decline in prices.

Age-old prices will repeat. Extremely low prices always bring production and consumption into balance.

Take copper. Unquestionably copper under 10 cents would be a price that would be a sign of a general decline in prices.

When the present crop of pessimism lifts the price outlook will change. It may change more suddenly and drastically than is expected.

Some time ago, a steady consumption has been curbed in a large measure by the demand for it.

Human nature will again assert itself. A period of spending will follow this period of saving.

INSURANCE HAS MERELY DECLINE

By FRANK F. LOOMIS

The activities of the various life insurance companies throughout the United States are continually getting out new forms of life insurance or income policies aimed to meet the individual needs of every man, woman or child.

One of the latest contracts issued is called the Family Income Policy. This policy is designed for the man who needs the greatest amount of protection for each dollar.

It guarantees a monthly income of $100 until the children are grown, and then pays a lump sum of $10,000 to take care of the future.

It provides a following: If you should die within 20 years after you start the policy, your family will receive an amount of money that will take care of your family until the end of the 20th year.

If your death should occur more than 20 years after you start the policy, your family will receive a lump sum of $10,000.

If you should become totally disabled, your family will receive a lump sum of $10,000.

A Worthwhile Suggestion

There is ample time for the army engineers, assisted by engineers from civil life, to pass judgment upon this project and submit their studies to Congress when it convenes.

Meantime the American people have good reason to thank the Mayor of Boston for putting up to the federal government a national plan that would meet a national emergency in a way that strongly appeals to the common-sense and national pride of his countrymen.

People Show Their Wish to Keep It

Boston's transportation MUST expand. We require new subways and tunnels and such other additions to the rapid transit system as will accommodate the growth of the Metropolitan area and the convenience of the public. To such extent as the law must be changed to secure those progressive developments, the people of Massachusetts will agree. But they will not consent to any doctoring or malicious dissections that could in any way impair the hold they now have upon the Elevated, and for which they have paid generously.
